It has been suggested that if the property owners, the streets in front of whose properties have been paved by the city will reimburse the city the cost of which the proposed two-thirds paving ordinance would not be so objectionable, but it is scarcely probable that this will be done and, therefore, it is unwise and unpopular to pass it.

The city was dry again Sunday—a little more so than usual. This was not brought about alone by the officers, but by the saloon keepers too. They appear to have made up their minds to rest on Sunday and are carrying out the resolution almost to the letter. The conditions are very much improved and there is no ground for finding fault. If kept up throughout the year, and there is no reason why it should not be, the moral tone of the city will have undergone much improvement.

Doctors have been fooled more than once. That is, some doctors. Doctors are like anybody else, some are good and some are bad; some have reached the height of fame in medical jurisprudence, but only by close attention to their profession, hard work and study. Others barely catch the rear step of the class train as it pulls out of the college train shed, and are given a diploma along with the others. It must have been doctors of the latter class who were held up to the ridicule and contumely of a laughing public in an Ohio town the other day.
In a case in court, where two daughters were trying to have their mother's will set aside on the grounds of insanity, two doctors declared they diagnosed the patient's case by means of looking into her eyes. Cross examination revealed the fact that they could see only one of the eyes as the woman lay in bed.
Then it was conclusively proven that the woman had been blind as a bat in that eye for many years, and that the doctors had been looking into the glassy depths of an artificial organ.

HIGHLY ENTERTAINED

WERE THOSE WHO HEARD DR.
WAVERLY BRIGGS' ADDRESS
SUNDAY.

Magnetic and Gifted Speaker Delivers Finest Oratorical Treat That Clarksburgers Have Yet Listened To.

The large audience which heard Dr.
Briggs yesterday afternoon at the opera house and last evening at the Presbyterian church were not disappointed.
He gave what is generally considered today to be the finest oratorical treat that has been enjoyed this season. Dr. Briggs is a most magnetic and gifted speaker.
His appearance on the platform is one of ease and grace, personable pleasing, his eyes beam with the light of sincerity, and intellect has stamped itself upon his forehead. Both of his lectures on Sunday were strictly of a religious character, but failed to cover the deep hypnotism which would be sure to capture an audience in a popular lecture. Dr. Briggs is a man of Southern birth and training. His enunciation is perfect to a degree and a tinge of the Southern dialect makes everything he says pleasing to the ear. His eloquence cannot be overestimated.

LECTURES TONIGHT

Dr. George Waverly Briggs to Render His Popular Lecture, "The American Girl," at the Opera House.

Tonight the Dr. George Waverly Briggs, the great Southern orator, who pleased to an incomparable degree, the large audiences which heard him yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. meeting and in the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church at night, will deliver a popular lecture at the opera house. He is to give "The American Girl." His lecture is full of humor, and the sale of tickets promises to bring a full house. The general admission throughout the house has been placed at 50 cents.

Just received, a fresh supply of Lyon's celebrated candies, at C. D. Sturm

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Patterson Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar, saying, 'Give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time, for it cured me.'"
